T DEVELOPS MAYOR GREETSS N IDAHO TRIAL ODD FELLOWS

Coroner's Testimony Regarding Arrest

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, April 19.—A crowded courtroom for the trial of a man charged with the murder of Stephen A. Browning, mayor of Idaho Falls, formerly of Ogden, was held yesterday morning. The trial was the first held by the prosecution. His defense was that the death of Mr. Browning was due to shock and hemorrhage and was almost instantaneous. The defense was presented by a local attorney, and the state's case was presented by the county attorney. The trial was held in the courtroom of the Idaho Falls city hall. The jury was sworn in at 10 o'clock. The state's case was presented by the county attorney, who called the coroner as a witness. The coroner testified that he had been called to the scene of the murder at 11 o'clock. He testified that he had found the body of Mr. Browning lying on the ground. He testified that he had called the police and the fire department. He testified that he had seen the defendant, who was a man of about 30 years of age, standing over the body of Mr. Browning. He testified that he had seen the defendant strike Mr. Browning with a club. He testified that he had seen the defendant flee the scene. The defense called a witness, who testified that he had seen the defendant strike Mr. Browning with a club. The trial was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Official Welcome Given to Lodgers at Annual Encampment

PROVO, April 19.—Official welcome was given to the members of the Idaho Odd Fellows lodge at their annual encampment here at the opening of yesterday's session by Mayor O. K. Hanson. He complimented the local lodge on bringing the convention to Provo, and upon the teachings of the order, invited them to look over the resources of the section and to return and join the people of Utah counties in the next annual hike to the summit of Mt. Timpanogos, which takes place in July.

SPEAKS ON LEGION.

Following Mayor Hansen's speech of welcome, Captain James E. Tucker welcomed the visitors to the army and navy lodge. He extended felicitations. He told of the achievements of the American Legion in securing legislation providing proper care for the disabled service men. He asked for the co-operation of all in the work of the Legion in undertaking in behalf of the fraternity. Grand Master Harvey H. Cluff of Salt Lake responded with an acceptance of the very cordial welcome extended the lodge.

"I most gratefully thank you for these kind expressions, and the wholehearted support which they were given," Mr. Cluff said. "Let me assure you it will never be your privilege to welcome to this fair city a more appreciative, big-hearted, charitable, loyal and patriotic class of citizens than you have welcomed today."

L. O. O. F. AIMS.

The speaker then told of the things for which Odd Fellowship stands. In this connection he said: "Odd Fellowship furnishes no opportunity for man to camouflage; it despises hypocrisy and pretense. It is a great, old, old, and best men the sun ever shone on have banded themselves together for the practice of exalted principles. The triumph of Odd Fellowship lies in extended influence, and in the fact that the principles of the order, exemplified by its members in every walk of life, make of them better Samaritans on life's highway."

Mr. Cluff then told of the work of the lodge, stating that during the year 1921 it had expended for relief in this jurisdiction $21,788.36 in cash, to say nothing of the relief given by actual service.

DEGREE CONFERRED.

Following the meeting at the armory, the grand lodge conferred the degree on 40 members, and later the Eureka degree team initiated a class. Most of the afternoon was taken up in matters of business pertaining to the lodge and the appointment of committees to carry on the work.

One of the touching features of yesterday's sessions was the adoption of resolutions extending the lodge's sympathy to Mrs. Lewis W. Curry of Veranda, widow of the former grand master of Utah Odd Fellows, who died recently. The committee, composed of W. E. Grundy, Charles Cameron and L. E. Hubbard, drafted the following resolution, a copy of which was wired to Mrs. Curry:

"The grand lodge of the L. O. O. F. of Utah, in annual session assembled, conveys to you its most sincere sympathy in the great loss you and we have sustained in the passing of your greatest husband, and the grand lodge of the Rebekah branch of the Odd Fellows conferred the Rebekah degree on a class of candidates."

RATE HEARING PLANNED.

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, April 19.—Nad, has been received here that the reduction in freight rates favoring other points to the detriment of Idaho Falls has been set aside and a hearing will be held by the Idaho state public utilities commission in Boise on Monday, May 1, at 10 o'clock. At 6 o'clock last evening an imposing parade took place, and at 8 o'clock the Rebekah branch of the Odd Fellows conferred the Rebekah degree on a class of candidates.

BOY WOUNDED

First tilt between the prosecution and the defense occurred when the defense attempted to shake the testimony of Coroner C. E. Dinwoody, and the coroner was recalled for re-examination and he related how a company with physicians and city officials, visited the home of E. Nelson on the morning following the murder, how they had seen the younger brother, suffering from the effects of a bullet wound, and of the highly nervous condition of his brother, Clyde.

It would be better for him, Dinwoody, for his mother, if he, Guy, told the shooting," elicited a somewhat heated accusation from Attorney Erickson of the defense that the coroner had been made by Mr. Dinwoody and other city officials to gain possession from the defendant by "on and sweating."

OFFICIALS TESTIFY.

Prosecution brought vigorous denials of the witnesses' objection to cross-examination was allowed by the court. The afternoon session closed with the testimony of the coroner, who testified that he had seen the defendant strike Mr. Browning with a club.

BRIGHAM CITY BANKS MERGED

BRIGHAM CITY, April 19.—Merger of the State Bank of Brigham City with the Security Savings bank was completed yesterday, the new bank to be known as the State and Security bank. The officers announced that the capital will be increased to $100,000 and the merged bank will occupy quarters formerly occupied by the State bank.

The personnel of the officers of the new institution has not yet been definitely decided upon, but in all probability M. S. Browning of Ogden, president of the State bank, will continue as president of the merged institutions, with James E. Halverson, R. L. Fishburn and E. W. Dunn as vice presidents, and W. T. Davis, cashier of the State bank, as cashier. Members of both boards of directors will make up the directorate of the new institution, and Mr. Halverson, who is the president of the Security Savings bank, will be the active vice president of the new bank.

According to the official statements of the two banks dated March 20, 1922, the new bank will have a capitalization of $100,000; a surplus of $22,000; loans and discounts of $1,066,628.51; deposits amounting to $1,165,291.35; and resources totaling $1,248,982.24.

LAST OF CIVIL WAR ARMY NURSES DIES

MOSCOW, Idaho, April 19.—Mrs. Alwilda Patton Smith, 89 years of age, who died yesterday, was the last of what is said to have been the regularly enlisted nurses with the Union forces in the Civil war.

The story of her enlistment, made so she could be with her wounded husband, is one of devotion.

In April 1862, her husband, Lindol Smith, Seventy-third Indiana regiment, was wounded, and complications resulted in pneumonia. In an effort to reach the bedside, Mrs. Smith appealed to Levi P. Morton, wartime governor of Indiana, for a permit to enter the Union territory, but the regulations were so strict that only Union soldiers were allowed to enter and leave the territory in which her husband was quarantined.

Mrs. Smith filled out enlistment papers and shortly after her arrival at the front line was assigned as matron of the Gallatin, Tenn. hospital, a position which she retained until the close of the war.

Mr. Smith was the builder of the first administration building at the University of Idaho, in 1882. Mrs. Smith was first president of the Idaho state Women's Relief corps, a charter member in the Rebekah lodge and president of the first Idaho Rebekah assembly in Idaho. Funeral services were held here Friday.

GARDNER TO HAVE HEARING FRIDAY

SALT LAKE, April 19.—George H. Gardner, slayer of Deputy Sheriff Gordon Stuart, will appear for preliminary hearing Friday morning at 10 o'clock before Judge Ben Johnson. Gardner has been charged with murder in the first degree.

The date was set yesterday afternoon by Judge Johnson following Gardner's arraignment. Gardner declined to plead, and the court entered a formal plea of not guilty.

Gardner was not represented by counsel. He informed the court that he had been unable to confer with an attorney, and Judge Johnson told him that if he was unable to obtain anyone to represent him, the court would appoint counsel.

Gardner maintained the indifferent attitude which has marked his demeanor since his arrest last Saturday afternoon. He seemed unimpressed by the eyes which were fastened upon him as he sat in the courtroom in the custody of a deputy sheriff.

County Attorney Arthur E. Moreton has been preparing for the hearing since the shooting at Welby Saturday morning when deputy sheriffs went to Gardner's farm to remove some stock claimed by Joseph W. Irvine. Gardner's brother-in-law, Irvine, was shot through the jaw and neck.

Mr. Irvine is making a heroic fight for his life, according to his physician, Dr. E. F. Root.

BRIGHAM CORINNE ROAD IS APPROVED

BRIGHAM CITY, April 19.—For the purpose of checking over the specifications and profile of the proposed federal aid highway between Brigham and Corinne, B. J. Finch, district engineer for the bureau of public roads, and his assistant, E. W. Mattoon, Howard C. Means, state road engineer, and his assistant, J. R. Ellis, were in the city Saturday. They approved the plans as they had been drawn.

There was a question about viaducts over the railroad crossings, but the government engineers said that, if provision can be made to prevent any buildings being erected within a certain distance of the corners at the Fifth West and Sixth North street intersection and for the removal of part of a cherry orchard which obstructs the view of the railroad right of way, there will be no necessity for a viaduct which would cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

The present state highway is followed in the profile drawn by District Engineer K. C. Wright, down Sixth North and the Watery lane on the south side of the sugar factory, then along the county pike toward Corinne.

At the Big Slough bridge a right angle turn is made and about a quarter of a mile further north another turn occurs. In order to avoid these two bad turns and at the same time shorten the road, a right of way has been secured through the J. C. Knudson farm along the north side of the Malad valley railroad right of way which strikes the county highway a short distance east of Corinne. It is over
